

Decision Engine

The Decision Engine is a myP module adding logical reasoning and proactive behavior. It is based on the logical programming language Prolog and allows to model information about the environment of the robot and rules how to infer further information. For the proactive behavior, the Decision Engine defines how the robot thinks about what to do when being idle.