

ROS Node Monitor

The ROS Node monitor is a component for configuring, monitoring and managing status of other roslaunch processes across multiple machines within the robot system. It is itself a ROS node providing a simple web-based GUI, which does not require ROS on the user side.